GRENTech WON BID TO PROVIDE WIRELESS COVERAGE SOLUTION FOR PTML' S GSM EXPANSION PROJECT IN PAKISTAN

SHENZHEN, PRC — September 7, 2007 — China GrenTech Corporation Limited (NASDAQ: GRRF, “the Company” or “GrenTech”), a leading China based RF technology and product developer and a leading provider of wireless coverage products and services, today announced that it has won the indoor coverage subcontract from Huawei Technologies Co. Ltd. (“Huawei”) to provide 70% of the wireless indoor coverage solution for PTML GSM 900/1800 expansion project (phase 5) that Huawei is constructing in Pakistan.

PTML, operating under the brand name of Ufone, is the second largest wireless communication operator in Pakistan and a subsidiary of Etisalat, a world leading multinational telecommunication operator.

The cooperation between Huawei, one of the largest base station equipment manufacturers in China, and Ufone commenced last year. Huawei will map out nationwide GSM network in Pakistan. Upon completion, Ufone’s expanded GSM network will cover over 1,500 cities and towns through out Pakistan. GrenTech as a qualified supplier for Huawei will apply its accumulated experiences in wireless coverage solution to Ufone’s GSM expansion project and provide high quality products and services to customers in Pakistan.

About China GrenTech Corporation Limited
